General Mahane's Arraignment of the Democratic Party.

The address of the Republican State Central Committee of Virginia, which was issued at lichmond yesterday, is of great length, and devoted largely to an arraignment of the Democratic party and the administration of Governor Lee.

It criticless the Democratic platform for its alleged inconsistencies in pladging Democratic support to the Federal Administration and at the same time favoring a repeal of the fillst bill, to which the President's opposition is well known.

It declares that the Rosancke Convention in demanding a repeal of the internal revenue taxes and not in accord with the principles of the National Democracy.

with the principles at the National Democracy,
It charges that the Democracy of Virginia have builted the execution of the settlement of the pridic debt by their incompetence and notation faith incompetence and notation in the virginia boundeders which were in violation of previous pledges.

As to Federal aid in the debt settlement it states that this idea has not the merit of originality with the Democracy but was their advanced by the late Heary A. Wiss in 1874.

originality with the Democracy but was itself advanced by the late Heary A. Wiss in 1874.

It denies the assumption that the Damocratic party founded the school system of Virginia or has maintained itselfishers, while the defeat of the Blair bill to Congress was due to Democratic opposition.

Of Governor Lee's abinitistration it recalls in most condemnatory terms as lacking in ability and efficiency and trilling with grave pubblic laterests.

The address concludes with a doleful picture of the results of Democratic party bave analytic than the successes of the Democratic party bave analytic than the successes of the Democratic party have analytic than the services of the property of the delivery was the hope, so long held up before their eyes, that a Democratic Administration at Washington would bring them threstings or benefits comparable to those erjoyed under a Republican Administration.

1789-CENTENNIAL-1889

Hon. James O. Broadhead on the Proposed Celebration.

THE PROJECT INDORSED.

Action of the American Bar Associa

Hon, J. O. Broadhead of Missouri, who is at Willard's, on his way home from the annual meeting of the American Bar Association at Saratoga, was last night interviewed by a reporter of Tine Curie in regard to the resolutions adopted in favor of a joint calcuration by the sixteen American Republicant Washington in 1889 in house of lies at Washington in 1889 in honor of the centennial of the Constitution of the parent Republic—the United State. As Colonel Broadhead was the first president of the association, when or ganized at Saratoga in 1878, and as he is a recognized suthority on constitu-tional subjects, what he says has great weight, and will be of peculiar interest to the Centennial and Exposition Board of Promotion.

"Can you tell The Curric something about the resolutions ?"

"Yes, they were adopted usan imeusly, and I may say with eathin shasm. It was the southment of the convention that no better method could be suggested of celebrating the Centennial, in 1850, than to invite the fifteen Spanish American Republies, which have compilmented us by copying our organic law, to unite with us in a grand American interrepublic demonstration in honor of this great historic event. There perialnly could be no more useful way, for it will necessarily result in laying the foundation, broad and deep, for more infinate commer clail, secial and political relations by tween the several sister republics of the Western Hemisphere. There is no subject now before the American public of more importance than this. It is a shame that these republics have so long been comparative strangers to each other.

"The United States controls but a sixth part of the trade demand of the countries on the South, the lion's share large supplied by Europe. This is all wrong. We must have new outlets for our manufactures and Spanish Americas, without doubt, the most promising field. The proposed celebration will, in my opinion, be the cutering wedge for a trade revolution between the three Americas.

"I am particularly glad to see a grow."

for a traderevolution between the three Americas.

"I am particularly glad to see a growing disposition on the part of these Republics to cultivate more infilmate relations with us. The absority with which they have entered into this Centennial movement also shows that they are thoroughly alive to the principles and benefits of constitutional government.

"We have the cest Constitution are re-created, and these Republics have re-cognized this fact by copying it. They are proud of their independence and Republican institutions and will enter with enthusiasm into any demonstra-tion which will strengthen their per-netuity.

tion which will strengthen their perpetuity.

"The great secret of the success of the American Constitution is the fact that it, more than any other form of government, tends to stimulate individual energy, and insures human hap places. It builds up the capabilities of the individual man.

"Nothing could be more timely or useful than the plan which the Board of Promotion has hangurated for the Centennial of 1849, and I am sure it will be a grand success."

An Outbreak Dealited.
Outsua, Nnn., Aug. 23.—General
Crook yesterday received a dispatch from Major Randlette, in command at Fort Duckesne, Utah, in which he gives an account of an unauccessful attempt to find Colorow and negotiate with him. The dispatch stated that Indian Agent Byrnes, in charge of the White River Ures at Unitah Agency, had sent out a white man in company with Elray, Colorow's son, to a point near Meeker, a here Colorow was supposed to be camped. On arriving there they found the camp had been burned, and domestic nicosits were scattered about as if the place had been evacuated in great haste.

Young Colorow said he was confident the camp was attacked and surned by cowboys. It was also re ported that Chaplts, the widow of Chief Ouray, had been made away with, as she was among the missing squaws. How the Infantry Boys Are Enjoying Camp Life. ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 23.—The eamp has been named after General camp has been named after General Benet. As initimated yesterday, camp life has fairly begun. The tents have been put in that apple-pie order—that dress parade appearance for which the infanity's camps have ever been noted. Some of the tents are fitted up as taste tolly as a lady's boundar. Three of them have been carrialise in front, and the same three contain many bodies of tendy made constails. The contains are more afficulties to a majority of the visitors than are the law carrials. Some of the tasts are carpoted with the best of Bruss-learnt tapestry. They contain downy bods and are furnished

A VERY PRETTY FIGHT.

The Liberal Unionists Dissatisfied With Lord Hartington.

LOOKING TO GLADSTONE.

Possibility of Their Returning to Their Gtd Affestance.

LONDON, August SL-By the Gay. erument's proclamation of the National League a very pretty light has been precipitated between the Conservatives and the Unionists on the one hand and Lord Hartington and a portion of his bendies the stand default words they builded back at the Ghalatonians only a few days ago in troposite to overfures for a reconciliation.

A few of the Unionists, however, are bail enough to declare unbestatingly that Lord Hartington has led them further than they agreed to go when they furned the back on the Elderal cropps and set their faces toward the goal of preserving the integrity of the Union, and here nationated plainly that they intend to estimate their steps part of the way back at home.

Was there ever before some so in one state to be estimated as in a composing the Liberal Unionist party of the size of the lateral to finite party of the size of the composite the test with the understant beginning the Liberal Unionist party of the size of the form of the few warm in heir seals than they street to out do the Tories themselves in the violence of flady opposition to any proposal centering being the transfer of the local government of Ireland to Irish limits.

Interest Torties the seal of Ireland to Irish limits.

Beginning here, they have slowly detical into the Conservative camp, until, in their declaration of principle,

All of THE LAW.

What, is pertinently asked, was the law passed for. If not to be enforced, and who should see to it that it is enforced, if not those who should in their places in Parliament and declared that it was necessary to back up their declarations with votes? In the squables that must certainly grow out of the proclamation of the League, the Unionists will be likely to cut a very poor figure.

proclamation of the League, the Unionsite will be likely to ent a very poor figure.

Lord Hartington will doubtless retain the balls of his followers and ultimately deliver them over to the Torles,
for it seems to be settled that the day's of Lichard and Lord Hartington has a belowing in the distillent membase, but the members themselves have none in the constituencies they misreprevert stong consight to return from to his seats they have formless, and it would appear that the future relations
of the Conservatives and Lalendste
must be evidentical upon the relations
of the Conservatives and Lalendste
must be evidentical upon terms had down by hard Salishary and not by Lord Hartington

Just now the Torles are more necessury to the Unionists than the Unionnate to the Torles and for the reason,
and this only the Unionists as a body
will not plant to describ the Government, However repairment, its Irish policy as indicated by its crient in pracinining
the league may be to them, it would do then to need at this like day to return to the Liberal party.
